

2022 Interprovincial Pro Football Conference

The IPFC is the fictional league for Plaay.com's COLD SNAP Canadian Pro Football Game. The IPFC was originally created in 2010 by Keith Avallone and sold through 2013. In 2014, when the series was going to be discontinued, Keith granted Lenny La France permission to keep the league moving forward.

The IPFC originally consisted of six teams: Halifax, London, Quebec, Saskatoon, Vancouver, and Ottawa. In 2014, Ottawa moved to Windsor and Alberta was added to the league. At this time, the league's seven teams were not broken down into divisions. In 2015, the league introduced its eighth team, Niagara. Niagara was designated as a regional team playing half of their home games in Buffalo, NY and the others in St. Catharines, Ontario. With eight teams, the league broke down into two divisions, Eastern and Western.

2022 Season

Despite the continuation of a world-wide pandemic, the IPFC enters into their thirteenth season. Contenders for the 2022 Cartier Bowl Champions is a mixed bag as the East is heavily competitive and the West is complicated. In the East, London, Quebec, Halifax, and Niagara will all compete for the top two playoff positions. However, in the West, Vancouver and Alberta will battle for the top two positions while Saskatoon and Windsor will sink to the bottom.

The impacts of the 2022 IPFC Draft should be observed in the league for years to come. With the number one pick in the draft, Saskatoon selected QB Colson Herbert. With the second pick, Halifax selected QB Cason Herbert, Colson's identical twin brother. Colson and Cason have high potential and should be immediate gamechangers for their respective team. With the third overall pick, Windsor selected G Doug McDonald who is expected to provide support for their struggling offense. Quebec, with the fourth overall pick, selected CB Nicholas Larocque to further improve the league's best pass defense. However, it appears Larocque will struggle under stress. Using their fifth overall pick and looking to make a championship push, Niagara selected SB Morgan Owens. With the sixth and seventh picks, Alberta selected T Harold Wolfe and 2021 Cartier Bowl Runner-up Vancouver selected CB Marshall Pace. With the final pick, London selected C Ellis Williams.

As new players enter the league, others have found new opportunities. The biggest off-season news was QB Shaun Parsons and WR Alex Bosch leaving Windsor for opportunities in Football America. In seven years in the IPFC, Parsons won two Cartier Bowls, earned two league MVP Awards and one league Offensive MVP. Alex Bosch played nine years in the IPFC, won one Cartier Bowl and led the league in most receiving statistics over the past several years.

In the realm of retirements, RB Cedric Foster called it quits after ten seasons. As a dual-threat, Foster won the Cartier Bowl and IPFC MVP with Quebec in 2017, and was also named league Offensive MVP in 2016. Foster is a likely candidate for the IPFC Hall-of-Fame. WR/RET Jameel Ashrod, who spent seasons in Windsor and London, hung up his cleats after 14 seasons. Along with Ashrod, WR Anthony Peace and WR Jabari Harper also put in their papers after 14 respectable seasons. Peace played seven years in Football America before spending his last seven years in the IPFC. Harper spent most of his time in London and Windsor as a dependable number two receiver.

Significant internal movement also occurred within the league. After spending two seasons in Alberta, WR Chase Patterson returns home to Halifax. A shoe-in for the IPFC Hall of Fame and with eleven seasons under his pads, Patterson is considered the league's most talented receiver and will elevate rookie QB Cason Herbert's confidence and capabilities. Along with Patterson, RB Ntwannu Nyamadi returns to Halifax after two years in Saskatoon; he is expected to retire at the end of the season. With Patterson's return to Halifax, WR Nicholas Frazier was not re-signed and moves onto Saskatoon where he will be QB Colson Herbert's number two target. As Saskatoon added Colson Herbert and Nicholas Frazier and to replace the vacancies left by QB Shaun Parson and WR Alex Bosch, QB Mark McClellan and WR Remi McKinney both signed with Windsor. Looking to make another Cartier Bowl run, Vancouver signed All-Pro CB DeShawn Patterson and the aging but capable SB Kyle Laurence.

2022 Interprovincial Pro Football Conference

Eastern Division

Halifax. Led by rookie QB Cason Herbert, WR Chase Patterson, WR Miguel Nichols, RB Blake Thornton, and RB Ntwannu Nyamadi, Halifax possesses the league's top pass and run offence. However, with a below average defense, Halifax will depend on their offence to make a 2022 Cartier Bowl run. Whether through the air or pounding the ground, Halifax's offence has the ability to expose the weaknesses of opposing defences and pulverize them. As opponents look for success against Halifax, the key will likely be owning the clock and keeping Halifax's defence on the field. OFF/DEF: [NC]/[NC]. Projected: 6-4.

London. Returning after their 2021 Cartier Bowl Championship journey, London is ranked as one of the top teams in the league. Their overall top ranking is an accumulation of their second ranked pass offence, second ranked run offence, and second ranked run defence. London's only weakness is their slightly below average pass defence which should be adequate enough for another Cartier Bowl push. London's high powered offence is fueled by their quarterback and four time IPFC MVP J'Marcus Urban, dual-threat RB Chase Mullen, and speedster WR Colton Marsh. Anchored by veterans LT Pete Miniacci and RG Robert Nelson, Urban should have time in the pocket or to hit open holes and pounce up the field. Entering into his eleventh season, DT Jon Ikeda captains London's defence and is still considered the best defensive lineman in the league. OFF/DEF: [NC]/[-2]. Projected: 7-3.

Niagara. With personal improvements by WR Robert Malone and RG Matthew Pritchard, and along with the addition of rookie SB Morgan Owens, Niagara's passing offense has the potential of being a powerhouse. However, Niagara's wildcard will again be QB Jeff Fountain who threw eighteen interceptions last season. Luckily for Fountain, Niagara's offensive line is now considered the best in the league and should give him needed time to make quality throwing decisions. RB Eric Stewart and FB Milt Smyke will provide Niagara with adequate running support, but nothing IPFC historians will write about. On the other side of the ball, Niagara's pass defence ranks third in the league, while their run defence ranks fifth. For special teams, RET Erik Kempf has explosive speed and should earn some paydirt. If played right, Niagara has the ability to win the East. OFF/DEF: [-1]/[+2]. Projected: 5-5.

Quebec. If defence wins championships, Quebec should have the 2022 IPFC season in the bag. Quebec's pass and run defence are both ranked top in the league and have almost no weaknesses. Quebec's dominate pass coverage is led by rookie CB Nicholas Larocque, DH Jumelle Duran, OLB Jean-Francois Giguere, and OLB Jovan Ridgely, while their pass rush is centered around DE Cedric Brockman. Quebec's superior run stopping efforts are centered around S Braden Parker, OLD Jovan Ridgely, MLB Ryan Blake, DT Zander Wallace, and newcomer DT Jeremy Snyder. Despite the impressive 2021 season by Trois-Rivieres native QB Jeremy Lefevre, Quebec's 2022 offence will struggle and the team will most likely have to rely on their running game. Overall, for Quebec to win the Cartier Bowl, their defence must not only stop opponents from scoring, but also put points on the scoreboard. OFF/DEF: [+1]/[-1]. Projected: 8-2.

Western Division

Alberta. Similar to Quebec, Alberta has a dominating defence but is lacking in offence. Led by S Cody Erickson, 2021 Defensive Rookie of the Year CB Rashad Kaufman, 2019 IPFC Defensive MVP OLB Drew St. Pierre, and All-Pro MLB Jaxson Leach, Alberta's defence ranks second in the league behind Quebec. However, their offence is ranked second to last. Despite their low rankings, Alberta's offence still contains RB Kevin Blanchard, an elite dual-threat who is in the peak of his career, and QB Nate Willington who is efficient and durable. OFF/DEF: [NC]/[NC]. Projected: 5-5.

Saskatoon. With a decent offensive and terrible defense, Saskatoon will not find much success in 2022. However, their five-year outlook looks positive. For 2022, Saskatoon will rely heavily upon their passing game to move the ball as their ground game appears inadequate. Rookie QB Colson Herbert, WR Mathias Small, newcomer WR Nicholas Frazier, and SB Lincoln Burkholder are expected to carry most of the offensive burden. When the ball is needed to be moved on the ground, RB Carl West, RB Jason Phillips, RB Sean Sherman, and FB Michael Tremblay will share the workload. When facing Saskatoon, opponents will not only find success on the ground, but also through the air. When defending the red zone, expect Saskatoon to fall apart. OFF/DEF: [-2]/[+1]. Projected: 2-8.

Vancouver. Even with QB "Shotgun" Johnson at the helm, Vancouver's running game should be the strength and focus of their offence. Although RB William Jacoby and FB Nick Harmon are considered average runners, Vancouver's ability to move the ball effectively on the ground will come from the run blocking abilities of the offensive line and receiving core. As for their passing game, QB "Shotgun" Johnson is still a force to be reckoned with and will frequently connect with Myles Molson and newcomer SB Kyle Laurence. Defensively, Vancouver made key additions with the signing of CB DeShawn Patterson and the selection of CB Marshall Pace in the draft. With a solid offence and defence, expect Vancouver to sit atop the West. OFF/DEF: [+1]/[NC]. Projected: 6-4.

Windsor. With the departure of QB Shaun Parsons and WR Alex Bosch, Windsor has hit rock bottom and the only place to go is up. Windsor's once top ranked offence and defence have de-stabilized and enter the 2022 season ranked at the very bottom of the league. To replace Parsons and Bosch, QB Mark McClellan and WR Remi McKinney were signed upon being ousted from Saskatoon. To address the retirement of WR Jabri Harper, Roger Pillion was signed. McClellan is a proven winner and McKinney brings speed to the line-up, but has a tendency to drop easy passes. Pillion has played second fiddle for most of his career and has been waiting for the opportunity to consistently be in a starting line-up. For the 2022 season, opponents should have limited issues picking apart Windsor's defence and stopping their offence. At the end of the day, unless someone is paying off the refs, expect Windsor to finish dead last in the West. OFF/DEF: [+2]/[NC]. Projected: 1-9.
