

2010-19 FOOTBALL AMERICA ALL DECADE TEAM

Football America, SECOND SEASON Pro Football's fictional professional football league, has now been around longer than any alternative pro football league--longer than the XFL 1.0 (one season, 2001), XFL 2.0 (half a season, 2020), the Alliance of American Football (half a season, 2019), World Football League (one and a half seasons, 1974-75), United States Football League (three seasons, 1983-85), All-American Football Conference (four seasons 1946-49) and the American Football League (ten seasons, 1960-69). The 2020 Football America season is the eleventh consecutive season for the league which was part of the return of SECOND SEASON Football to PLAAAY Games in 2010.

To commemorate the league's longevity, we thought it would be appropriate to name a Football America "All Decade Team," similar to the "All Decade" teams the NFL has created in recent years. It's a little harder for Football America, as there are no statistics to examine, no "championship rings" to count. Instead, we pored over the individual seasons and made note of superior performers. We created an all-league team for each season (along with honorable mentions), and then looked for players who showed up multiple times on the single season all-star rosters. We created first and second-team rosters, presented below and in team sheet form. How would these guys stack up against NFL competition? Watch for an inter-league "Decade Duel," FA vs. NFL stars of the 2010s, to be streamed live on the PLAAAY Games YouTube channel Tuesday night, September 29th!
